Whitestown, Ind. -- AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation, a drug wholesale company, is bringing 120 full-time jobs to a new distribution center located at 4860 Indianapolis Road in Whitestown. Corporate executives, along with federal, state and local leaders, gathered to celebrate the ribbon cutting and grand opening of the $55 million distribution facility on Monday, July 24th. The newly constructed, 320,000 square foot distribution center is 1 of 27 AmerisourceBergen distribution centers in the United States. It's location just off I-65 was key to the company choosing Whitestown.

"AmerisourceBergen distribution centers are strategically placed across the U.S. in order to provide the fastest, safest and most effective drug delivery to the pharmacists and customers we serve," said Lauren Moyer, director of external communications for AmerisourceBergen.

AmerisourceBergen will hire 94 semi-skilled employees, who will be paid $15.42 per hour. The seven clerical staff members will make $19.42 per hour and the 19 salaried employees will make the equivalent of $32.40 per hour.

"We're thrilled to welcome this top 15 Fortune 500 company with such a great reputation to Indiana's fastest-growing community," said Town Manager, Dax Norton. "We now have two, large pharmaceutical companies in our growing e-commerce sector. These high-wage jobs that AmerisourceBergen brings to Whitestown are exactly the kind of quality jobs we are always working to attract to our community."
